Sportsmanship

The philosophy of the Recreation and Intramural program is that good sportsmanship is expected in the conduct of every participant in every contest. A "good sport" is fair, courteous, has a positive attitude and accepts results gracefully. All individuals and teams participating should comply with the spirit of the game as well as the written rules that govern all competitive situations. In order to encourage proper conduct during contests, members of the Recreation and Intramural staff will make decisions whether to warn, penalize or eject persons, teams or spectators displaying poor sportsmanship. These employees should be treated with respect. Under no circumstances should staff be threatened or physically abused.
