THANK YOU, OLLI INSTRUCTORS!

It is with sincere gratitude that we thank the talented people who volunteer their valuable time and energy to teach for USCB OLLI. OLLI’s success depends largely on the quality of courses provided by our generous and knowledgeable instructors.

INTERESTED IN PRESENTING FOR OLLI?

OLLI instructors are lifelong learners who are excited about volunteering their time to share their knowledge with you. Some OLLI instructors are retired college or high school faculty, scientists, writers, Fulbright scholars, engineers, artists, ecologists, culinary staff, CEO’s, Dr’s, government representatives, and a myriad of other careers or passions. Just as OLLI members take courses for the sheer joy of learning, instructors teach for the joy of sharing their expertise and enthusiasm for a topic. Course structure can be a lecture, discussion, panel, and/or moderator led course.

To submit a course proposal for consideration by a curriculum team fill out a course proposal form at www.oli.uscb.edu.
